RON-SON is your source for many kinds of peppers. Our processing and importing knowledge spans three generations. This has allowed us to select only the most experienced packers with the highest quality standards.

ROASTED PEPPERS Grown in the sunny fertile fields of the Mediterranean basin and South America, only choice quality vine-ripened peppers are selected for Ron-Son brand. These are then fire roasted and hand trimmed leaving only a hint of the fire marks on them to show the roasting process. Less expensive brands use a standard quality that are chemically lye peeled by machine to reduce the cost, but this makes an inferior product. Roasted peppers are great in an antipasto or used as condiments for sandwiches. They make a great ingredient for many dishes. A delicious and very popular appetizer is to place them on a plate with sliced tomatoes and mozzarella cheese. You can then sprinkle them with Leone Bianco extra virgin olive oil and serve with bread. Roasted peppers are available whole or already conveniently cut into strips for sandwiches.

JALAPEÑO PEPPERS Everybody knows them as an ingredient in Mexican food. They are also an interesting addition to pizzas, sandwiches and even salad bars. Diced peppers are primarily used as an ingredient in cooking; they are a must for chili.

BANANA PEPPERS These are available in hot or mild and are used for sandwiches, pizza topping, and as a salad bar item. Banana peppers are also used as an ingredient in many recipes.
